Investment strategy

There is no default investment strategy, therefore a fund choice must be given to us before we can invest your contributions.

Schemes that provide for members' directions on investment

At the start of your policy, you choose which funds your contributions are invested in, in conjunction with the trustees of your scheme. If you don't choose, the trustees will. If you do choose, the trustees can override your investment choice.

Schemes that only provide for trustees' directions on investment

At the start of your policy, the trustees will decide which funds your contributions are invested in.

Buy Out Bond holders

In normal circumstances, at the start of your policy, you choose which funds your contributions are invested in.

For all Corporate Pension Series policies, the funds, their proportions and the allocation rate applicable will be outlined in your Member Summary Report.

For details on how to switch between the funds, see page 3.

Additional information about with-profits

Our with-profits funds are backed by a range of assets. These include European and overseas equities, bonds, and cash deposits. The asset mix of our with-profits funds can change over time.

The return of the asset mix is one factor that affects with-profits values. Other factors include our charges and any smoothing, and for investments in the Pension With Profits Fund, any guarantees that may apply.

The Pension With Profits Fund A has no investment guarantees.

There are no explicit annual charges for investments in with-profits, but when we calculate a policy's with-profits value, we take account of deductions for our costs.

These deductions are broadly the same as the annual charges for investment-linked funds with similar assets, and for investments in the Pension With Profits Fund, deductions, which may vary, for the cost of guarantees provided by with-profits business. The deductions may affect what you get back, although they will not reduce your guaranteed benefits.

If you are thinking of leaving the Pension With Profits Fund, you may be giving up valuable guarantees.

You can invest up to €1,000,000 in the Pension With Profits Fund A.

How to switch funds

If your scheme provides for members' directions on investment

You can, with the agreement of the trustees of your scheme, switch out of any of the funds you are invested in and into any of the available funds. All instructions to Standard Life must be signed by the trustees. See Instruction to switch funds (GEN31) on standardlife.ie/fundrange

If your scheme only provides for trustees' directions on investment

The trustees of your scheme can, at any time, switch out of a fund you are invested in and into any of the other available funds, by sending a signed instruction to Standard Life. See Instruction to switch funds (GEN31) on standardlife.ie/fundrange

Fund pricing, switching, transferring, or cashing in

You'll probably be one of many investors in each fund you're invested in. Sometimes, in exceptional circumstances

- we may change the pricing basis of a fund to reflect cashflows in and out. If it's a property-based fund, due to the high transaction charges associated with the assets, this can result in a significant movement of the fund price
- we may also wait before we carry out your request to switch your funds, transfer, or cash in your policy. This delay could be for up to a month. But for some funds, the delay could be longer, for example, if it's a property-based fund, it may be up to six months because property and land can take longer to sell

If we have to delay switching, transferring or cashing in, we'll use the fund prices on the day the transaction takes place – these prices could be very different from the prices on the day you made the request.

These are processes which aim to maintain fairness between those remaining invested and those leaving a fund.

For up-to-date fund restrictions, see Products and funds trading leaflet (PTR) in our Fund Centre, on standardlife.ie/fundcentre

Prices when switching funds

Where an instruction is received at any Standard Life office before 5pm, the prices that will apply (in normal circumstances) are those published two working days later (for example, for instructions received Tuesday 4pm, Thursday's prices apply). If the request is received after 5pm, the prices which will apply (in normal circumstances) will be those published three working days later (for example, for instructions received Tuesday 5.30pm, Friday's prices apply).

Charges

Bid/Offer spread

Units are allocated at the Offer Price and cancelled at the Bid Price. The Bid Price is 5% lower than the Offer Price.

Fund management charge

The current fund management charge for each investment-linked fund is set out on page 1. This charge is deducted daily when we set the unit price.

For investment in with-profits there is no explicit annual charge, but we make deductions for our costs. These deductions generally correspond to annual charges for investment-linked funds.

Service charge

There is a monthly charge for each member (currently €6.01), which increases each year in line with the Consumer Price Index. This charge is payable for as long as you remain in the scheme, regardless of whether you are still paying contributions (active member) or not (deferred member).

Investment allocation rate

The amount of each contribution that is used to purchase units is determined by its investment allocation rate. The investment allocation rate will depend on a number of factors. These include the size of the contribution and the term of the policy. For most members, the investment allocation rate will be those set out in the table below. The investment allocation rate that applies to your policy is outlined in your Member Summary Report.

Mortality charge

(not applicable to Buy Out Bond)

If you have death-in-service and/or premium protection cover, the cost of that cover will be deducted from the member's policy by cancelling units on a pay-as-you-go basis, or as a separate regular premium in addition to the pension contribution, depending on which method was chosen at the start. (You may also have disability benefit cover, but that's written as a separate policy.)

Switch charge

The first switch in any 12-month period is currently free of charge. Further switches in the same period currently cost €60, payable on the date the switch takes place, and will be collected by cancellation of units in proportion to the unit holdings immediately following the switch. The 5% charge included in the offer price of units is waived when a switch occurs.

We regularly review our charges and sometimes we need to increase them to reflect changes in our overall costs, or assumptions. Any increases will be fair and reasonable.

Remember

Different funds have different levels of risk. We recommend you talk to your financial adviser before choosing or switching funds.

The asset mix of a fund may be reviewed. It may be changed in line with developments in the relevant markets. To help manage a fund, part of it may be held in cash and other money market instruments.

Here's an outline of the specific or heightened risks applicable to our range of funds – it's not an exhaustive list, and only some may apply to the particular funds you're invested in. You should ensure that you read all relevant information to understand the nature of your investments and the specific risks involved. Please talk to your financial adviser – your attitude to risk, personal circumstances, financial goals, as well as a fund's various characteristics, all need to be considered.

Fund pricing, switching, transferring, or cashing in:

You'll probably be one of many investors in each fund you're invested in. Sometimes, in exceptional circumstances.

- We may change the pricing basis of a fund to reflect cashflows in and out. If it's a property-based fund, due to the high transaction charges associated with the assets, this can result in a significant movement of the fund price.

If we have to delay switching, transferring or cashing in, we'll use the fund prices on the day the transaction takes place – these prices could be very different from the prices on the day you made the request.

Equities and equity-related securities: These are sensitive to price movements in the stock market, which can be volatile and change substantially in short periods of time. The shares of smaller companies may be harder to sell and more volatile than those of larger companies.

Bonds: These are affected by changes in interest rates, inflation, and any decline in creditworthiness of the bond issuer. There is also a risk that the issuer, either a government or company, may not be able to pay the bond income as promised or could fail to repay the capital amount used to purchase the bond. Where a bond market has a low number of buyers and/or a high number of sellers, it may be harder to sell particular bonds at an anticipated price and/or in a timely manner.

Property: The value of properties held in any fund may fall and is generally a matter of the valuer's opinion and not fact. Property can also be difficult to sell, so you might not be able to sell your investment when you want to.

Property related funds can use what is known as a single swinging pricing methodology to protect against the dilution of transaction costs. Due to the high transaction costs associated with a property related fund's underlying assets, a change in the pricing basis may result in a significant downward movement in the fund's published price.

Real Estate Investment Trusts (REITs):

Investments in REITs and companies engaged in the business of real estate may be subject to increased liquidity risk and price volatility due to a variety of factors, including local, regional, and national economic and political conditions, interest rates, and tax considerations.

Collective Investment Schemes: These schemes can themselves invest in a diverse range of other assets. These underlying assets may vary from time to time, but each category of asset (which may include equities, bonds, or immovable property) has individual risks associated with them. The fund may not have any control over the activities of any collective investment scheme invested in by the fund.

Currency: Funds may have holdings which are denominated in different currencies and may be affected by movements in exchange rates. Consequently, currency exchange rates may have a positive or negative impact on the value of your investments.

Emerging markets: Emerging markets tend to be more volatile than mature markets and the value of investments could move sharply up or down. Emerging markets or less developed countries may face more political, economic, or structural challenges than developed countries. This may mean your money is at greater risk.

Frontier markets: Some of our funds may also invest in frontier markets which involve similar risks to emerging markets, but to a greater extent since they tend to be smaller, less developed, and less accessible than other emerging markets.

China: Investing in China and/or China A shares involves special considerations and risks, including greater price volatility, a less developed regulatory and legal framework, exchange rate risk/controls, settlement, tax, quota, liquidity, and greater government intervention/regulatory risks.

Derivatives: Can be used to meet a fund's investment objective or to protect from price and currency movements. This may result in gains or losses that are greater than the original amount invested. Derivatives are financial instruments which derive their value from an underlying asset, such as a company share or a bond, and are used routinely in global financial markets. Used correctly, derivatives offer an effective and cost-efficient way of investing in financial markets. However, derivatives can lead to increased volatility of returns in a fund, thus requiring a robust and extensive risk management process.

Counterparty: The insolvency of any institutions providing services such as safekeeping of assets or acting as counterparty to derivatives or other instruments may expose the fund to financial loss.

Active fund management: The risks that fund management decisions add are generally of a smaller magnitude than those of the asset types themselves. Some funds, however, don't have a structure where most of the returns are generated from traditional asset types. Rather, they derive most of their returns from very specific strategies. As a result, the risks of the fund are driven primarily by these fund management decisions, and less by the characteristics of the underlying traditional asset types.

Correlation: Some funds will invest in a diverse set of investment strategies which, in the opinion of the fund manager, have attractive risk reward characteristics. While the breadth of the strategies is significant, if they start to move in the same direction as one another, the fund may be subject to a higher level of risk and volatility than anticipated.

Concentrated portfolio: Due to the concentrated nature of some funds, investors must be willing to accept a relatively high degree of stock-specific risk, and may be more volatile than a more broadly diversified one.

Liquidity: This occurs when the relevant market is inefficient, and it may not be possible to buy or sell at an advantageous time or price.

Index tracking: If a fund aims to track the performance of a particular Index, there is a risk it will not track the Index's performance with perfect accuracy at all times.

Securities lending: The assets in some funds may be borrowed in order to earn an additional level of return and offset the cost of the fund. While securities lending increases the level of risk in the fund, it may provide an opportunity to increase the investment return.

With-profits: Our with-profits funds are backed by a wide range of assets. These include equities, property investments, bonds, and money market instruments (including cash). The asset mix for each with-profits fund can be different, and change over time. The return on the asset mix is one factor that affects with-profits values.

Other factors include our charges, and any smoothing and guarantees that may or may not apply. For information on with-profits, visit standardlife.ie/withprofits
